SAY: Today we are going to read about Nehemiah as he and the Israelites faced more challenges and how he led his people well.

SCRIPTURE: Nehemiah 6:1-19

Nehemiah and the Israelites had just finished rebuilding the wall, but hadn't finished installing the doors. When Sanballat and their other enemies heard they finished the wall they were not happy. Sanballat and the others wanted to meet with Nehemiah, they wanted him to leave the wall which wouldn't be a good choice because the doors weren't done and it wouldn't but Nehemiah in a vulnerable situation. Nehemiah didn't go because he recognized that it wouldn't be goof for him or his people. Sanballat and the others were still not happy so they began to say untrue things (lies) about Nehemiah, writing he wanted to take over and the king of Persia wouldn't like that. You wouldn't think Nehemiah would want to defend himself because someone was spreading rumors about him but instead Nehemiah was confident in who he was and let his character (his actions and how he treated people) speak for him. You would think that at this point Nehemiah had been through enough but there was more. One of the priest, Shemaiah, told Nehemiah he should hide in the temple. This wasn't good advice for a few reasons 1) Nehemiah wasn't a priest so he wasn't allowed in the temple 2) hiding wasn't the answer and 3) the priest wasn't on Nehemiah's side so it wouldn't have helped him to listen to him.

Nehemiah faced a lot in the process of following God's will and leading God's people in rebuilding the wall. But he didn't face any of it on his own, he had God on his side. He was able to lead well and the wall was completed because Nehemiah and the Israelites lived obediently and trusted God.
